

The owners of mainstream media in this country already control and censor too much of the information the public is allowed to receive. These greedy, multi-millionaires have lost all sight of honesty in reporting and seem only to be interested in accumulating more wealth and power, t expense of the constitutional freedoms our forefathers tried to guarantee us. At least satellite radio gives us some options to hear the truth.